Introduction

Descending the creaky, wooden steps of the basement, I turn right and proceed down a dimly lit, unfinished hallway. Encountering an ancient, deteriorating bookcase masked by cobwebs and decades of filth, my eyes capture a slender book within their view: The Innitou.

As I reach my hand into an opaque, dusty mist, I snatch the volume from the shelf. Its pages, once a brilliant, gleaming white, are yellowed and deadened through years of aging and disuse.

The faces of its countless pictures, now mere silhouettes in my mind, remind me of younger years when I seemed to have not a care in the world. As I skim the text and photos of the yearbook, I recall my dreams as a teenager. Times have changed so much. I cannot imagine life as it was then, but I do know one thing: I will cherish forever the memories the Innitou beholds.

Innitou History

Horn Pond was one of the most frequented camping sites of the Native American Indians. An Indian named Manitou, known as the Great Spirit, was believed to live on Horn Pond Mountain (Mount Towanda).

He delighted in gazing at his image reflected in the water below. Thus, Horn Pond as it is known today was called Lake Innitou, meaning "Looking Place of the Great Spirit."

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

This is the day which people have anticipated. Seniors, like incoming freshmen, have butterflies in their stomachs and are uncertain about the upcoming school year. As I pull my car into the parking lot, I am greatly restricted by ongoing construction. I find a space and make the long journey to homeroom in eight building, seeing all of the faces I have not seen all summer. Everyone is tan, showing off his or her new clothes and stylish haircuts. The buses have arrived and the freshmen are equipped with maps in hand and confused expressions plastered on their faces. Students run past me in a hurry before their homeroom teacher shuts the door. I hear chatter about who did what and who is dating who. Students bring pictures from the summer attached with juicy stories eager to be told. In homeroom, I look at the boy next to me trying to finish his summer reading in the next fifteen minutes. The chaos has begun...

I CAN'T WAIT!

What's Your Style?

TRENDS

As teenagers, we go through high school trying to figure out who we are. Many of us use fashion and style to express ourselves. Some students choose to wear all black while others are covered in neon-striped tights with their wrists covered in unique bracelets. Girls rave over designer handbags such as Coach, Burberry, and Kate Spade. Looking at everyone's shoes, one can see a rainbow of different hued Converse and Saucony sneakers. Sometimes we like that Woburn Memorial High has a very comfy side as well. On a rainy Monday morning almost everyone opts for their Woburn sweatshirts. Our high school is meshed with various trends that may come and go. However, we never lose our individuality.

“I WANNA BE ANYTHING BUT ORDINARY”

“WHO CARES WHAT YOU ARE - JUST ENJOY IT!”

“DUDE, YOU GOTTA TAKE IT AS IT IS”

Pats143: I bought a wicked hott pocketbook and new pair of green converse sneakers!

FRIENDSHIP

Each year, we grow closer and closer to leaving Woburn High. As the real world quickly approaches, time spent with friends becomes more valuable. As seniors, time is running out. After high school, we may not see again the friends with whom we were once so close. Nevertheless, they remain close to our hearts, even in absence. These are the friends with whom we enjoyed endless car rides when we first obtained our licenses, who made us feel comfortable in the most awkward moments, and with whom we have shared inside jokes that no one else knows.

It has always been a comfort to know that our friends will always be standing at the same locker before school every morning, waiting to chat and exchange homework. Even though the end of high school is approaching swiftly, no matter how much we try, we will not be prepared to leave them. Fear quickly sets in, as we wonder whether or not we will see our companions in the future. But in the end, memories of friendships never die, and it always is reassuring to know that someone out there will forever hold a little piece of your heart.

Forever Friends Forever Friends

"A GOOD FRIEND MAKES ALL THE DIFFERENCE IN LIFE."

"TRUE FRIENDS ARE THE PEOPLE THAT ARE THERE FOR YOU UNCONDITIONALLY. THEY ARE THE PEOPLE THAT NEVER QUESTION YOU AND SUPPORT YOU NO MATTER WHAT THE CIRCUMSTANCES ARE. THEY ARE THE PEOPLE WORTH LIVING FOR."

TANNER PRIDE

Tanner Pride is apparent all throughout our high school, from school activities or athletics. Everyone does their best to show their true colors; black and orange, tie-dyed shirts, boas and tights never cease to be popular.

The true meaning of "Tanner Pride" started back in 1973 when Coach Peter Sullivan had 10,000 bumper stickers printed displaying the words "Tanner Pride". "They were everywhere, on cars, on teacher's desks, on the press box and locker rooms. Tanner Pride is more than football" Sullivan said. "It is our community." It is everywhere you look... the band, the school organizations, the teachers, and the City of Woburn. Hopefully, as we grow older, we will always remember our Tanner Pride and treasure it forever.

Got Spirit?

"GOOD, BETTER, BEST.
NEVER, EVER REST. UNTIL
THE GOOD IS BETTER AND
THE BETTER IS BEST." -
COACH PETER J. SULLIVAN

"TODAY IS THE FIRST DAY OF THE REST OF YOUR LIFE"

OUR DAY

To a high school student, every day often feels the same. One wakes up, goes to school, attends classes, and then proceeds to after-school activities such as sports and clubs. But to many, routine will be sorely missed after high school. From daily trips to Dunkin' Donuts to the rotating ABC, BCA, CAB lunch schedule, life after Woburn High will just not seem the same to those who enjoy monotony most.

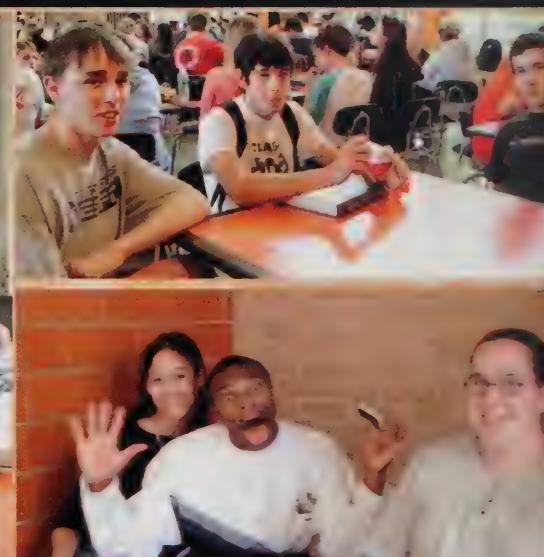

How can you ever forget standing outside, waiting for the bus? Or how about meeting your friends before homeroom every day by their lockers? Counting the minutes until the lunch bell finally rings?

The small things are those that are most likely to never be forgotten; the normal school day will only grow more tender as we age and reflect upon these past four years. However, for others, a chance to break free from the repetition of high school offers new opportunity, a way to enter "real life" and break the code. Many prefer the excitement of not being able to grasp what the days ahead may hold. Whatever the case, the typical high school day will never fade from our memory.

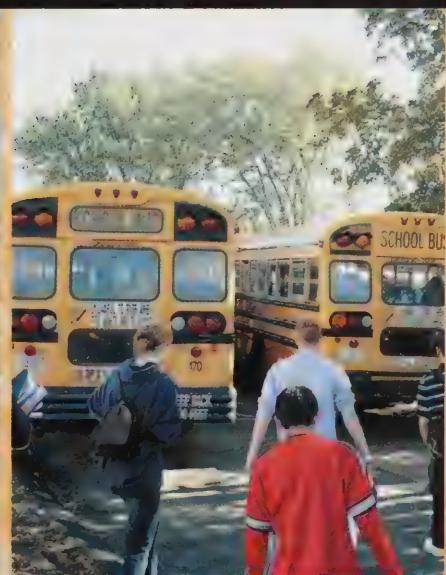

"GO CONFIDENTLY IN THE DIRECTION OF YOUR DREAMS; LIVE THE LIFE YOU'VE IMAGINED."
-THOREAU

"LIFE IS TOO SHORT.
DO WHAT YOU CAN WHEN
YOU CAN. MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR TIME WHILE YOU ARE YOUNG."

Day in the Life

Day in the Life

Pats143: ya I def agree, parties, beach parties, cookouts, parties

Summertime Fun

TWO MONTHS OF FREEDOM

The summer is always the most relaxing time of the year. It is the time for unforgettable vacations with family and friends, endless days at the beach, sun-filled days and crazy nights. Only during the summer do we feel completely free, able to enjoy the crashing of waves on the sand and the chirping of crickets in the muggy darkness, without a care in the world.

Summer is the only season that school is not in session, the only time that we do not have to worry about homework, tests, deadlines, and extracurricular activities. The only time that parents and teachers cannot bother us about assignments and living up to our academic potentials. During the summer, we can concentrate on forming new friendships and strengthening the old ones, and spend days and nights with those we love and will never forget. And even though summers are always too sweet to last, they forever remain too sweet to be forgotten.

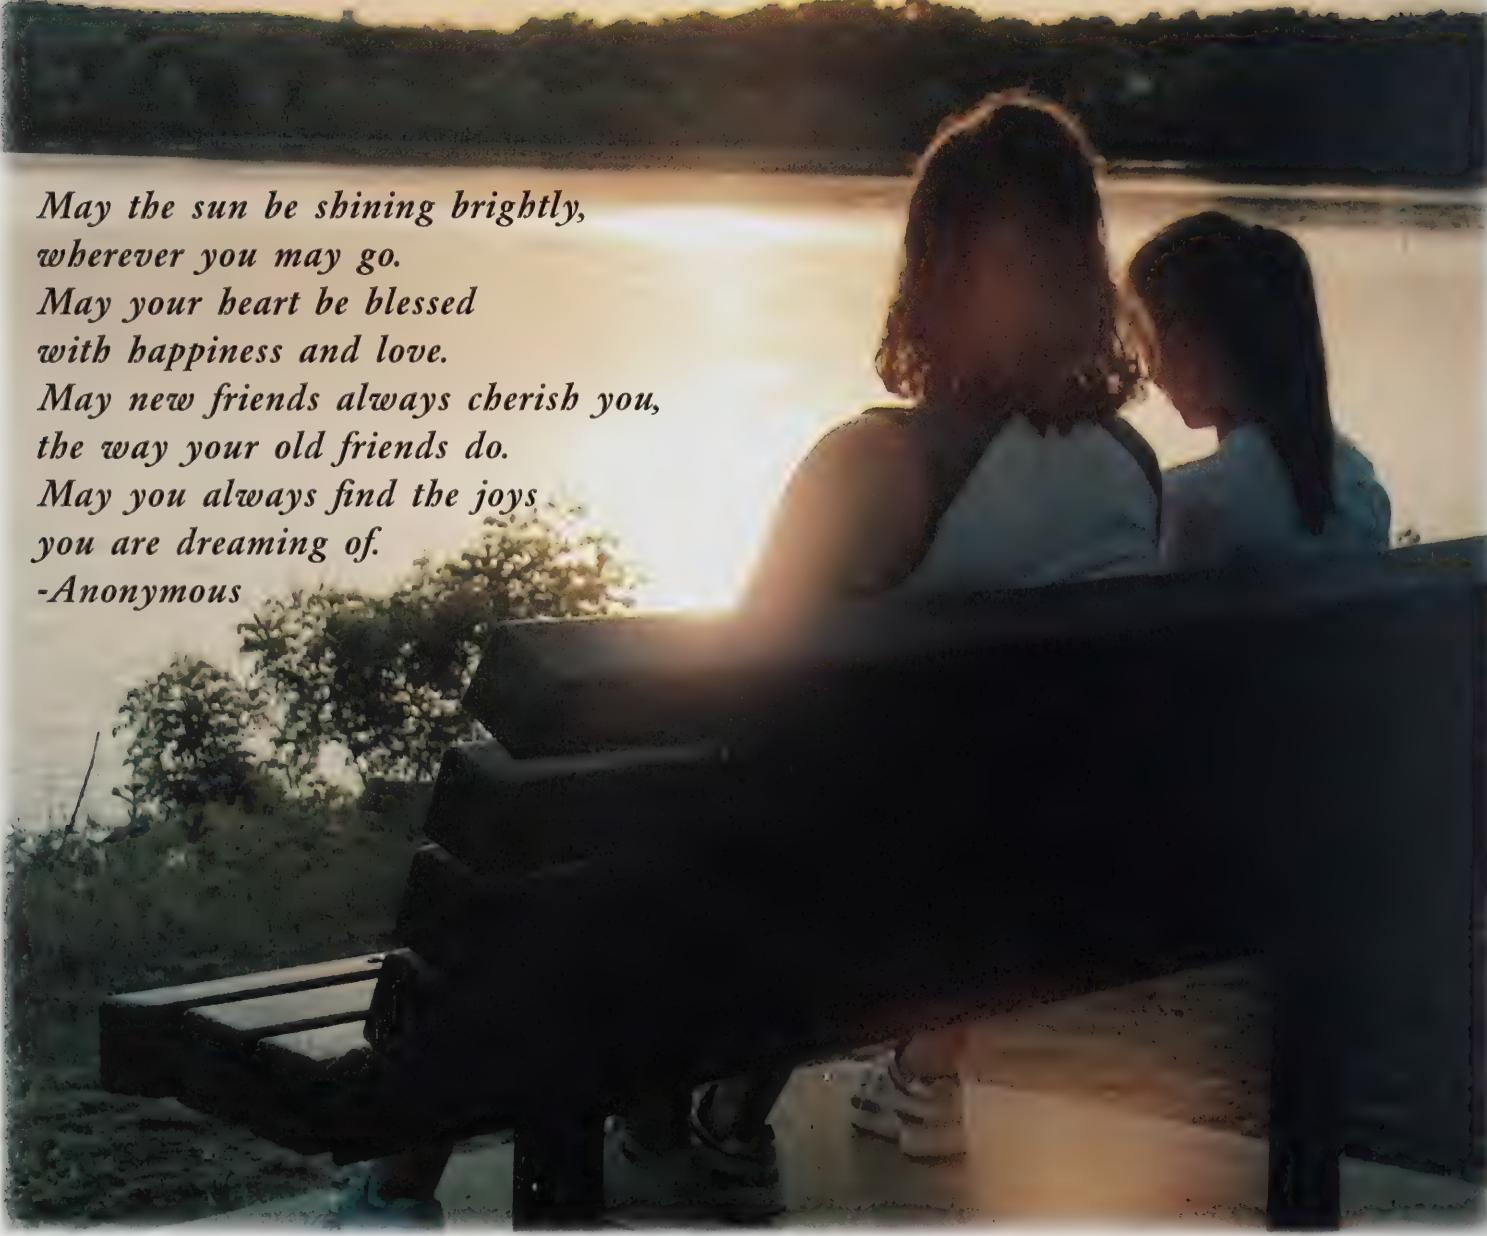

“SUMMER, SUMMER , SUMMERTIME, TIME TO SIT BACK AND UNWIND” -WILL SMITH

“SUMMERTIME, AND THE LIVING IS EASY...”
-PORGY & BESS

A Reflection

May the sun be shining brightly,
wherever you may go.
May your heart be blessed with happiness and love.
May new friends always cherish you,
the way your old friends do.
May you always find the joys you are dreaming of.

Dedication

Mrs. Dorothy Elanjian

The Class of 2005, along with the Woburn Memorial High School staff dedicate this edition of the Innitou to a person who is an extremely influential teacher and has dedicated over 15 years to working in the Woburn Public School System.

Mrs. Elanjian is a great motivator with a wonderful sense of humor. She is a caring, compassionate and kind women who truly enjoys teaching. She has influenced so many people over the years with her hard work, dedication and passion for teaching. Mrs. Elanjian arrives early to school each day, ready to give her best to her students. Students love her refreshing and unique way of teaching because she encourages them to work to their full potential. She has inspired so many lives. Her inspiration will live on... the best is yet to be.

I have always recalled senior year as the most crucial year of my high school career. It was a time to mature, discover, learn, and celebrate. Most importantly, it was a time of goals, of realizing who I wanted to be.

As I reflect upon these photos, I am reminded of an old saying used by teachers, parents, and friends: "Reach for the stars." Though pictures cannot wholly uncover the lives of others, each and every student shown here accomplished something remarkable during his or her term as a citizen of Woburn High, whether it be becoming school valedictorian, a sports captain, or merely acting as a friend towards others.

Every student shown here has a story to tell, a picture to paint. When I was a student, that is what high school was all about.

Graduating Staff Members

Mrs. Carol Caten - Department Chair Foreign Language

Started teaching: 1968 in Towson, MD

First taught: Spanish 3

Why did you choose to be a teacher?

"I wanted to make students aware of the richness and complexity of the culture and politics of the Hispanic World."

Memorable Event:

Taking the first student group to Spain in 1973 and getting involved in promoting the exchange programs.

Funny Moment:

"Having my desk stolen and moved to the fourth floor by period one students."

What are you going to miss about WMHS?

"I will miss the camaraderie of my colleagues as well as the students."

Famous last words:

"Remember that every September you get to start over.

Very few jobs allow this type of renewal."

Mrs. Dorothy Elanjian - English Teacher

Started teaching: 1962 in Tyngsboro, MA

First taught: Middle school Literature & Boston Center for the Blind Children.

Started substituting in 1979 for Woburn School System.

Why did you choose to be a teacher?

"I knew from the first grade that I would be a teacher. I could wear high heels, write on the board and have a big desk with a jar of pens and pencils."

Memorable Event:

"The first day I walked into my classroom at WMHS. I was so excited."

Funny Moment:

"Our Heroine's Journey Tea parties were wonderful. Students who through oral or written expression taught the class and me something!"

What are you going to miss about WMHS?

"The kids and my professional family."

Famous last words: "The best is yet to be."

Mr. Brian McDermont - School Psychologist

Started working: 1972 at Kennedy Middle School

Why did you choose this profession:

"The desire to impact those who are searching for a real meaning in their lives."

Memorable Event:

"The birth of my niece and nephew."

Funny Moment:

"Rushing late to a meeting and grabbing the wrong folder. After opening the folder in the meeting I found the folder contained blank sheets of paper."

What are you going to miss about WMHS?

"I will greatly miss the relationships of my fellow professionals who provided support and laughter. I will miss the students who struggled to grow and come to realize their own visions."

Famous last words: "Never let anyone take away your dreams."

IMPOSSIBLE DREAMS DO COME TRUE: RED SOX NATION

Forever Fans.

Meg and her man, Johnny Damon.

Fenway Park, The Home of the World Champs!!

The 86 year Curse of the Bambino came to an end as the last out was made in Game 4 and the Red Sox had won! . Ahh...it feels good to be World Series Champions! We will never forget Manny, Ortiz (Big Papi), Schilling, Bellhorne, Wakefield, Damon, Pedro, and all our other favorite Red Sox Heroes!

IMPRESSIVE RECORD: THE GLORY OF THE PATS

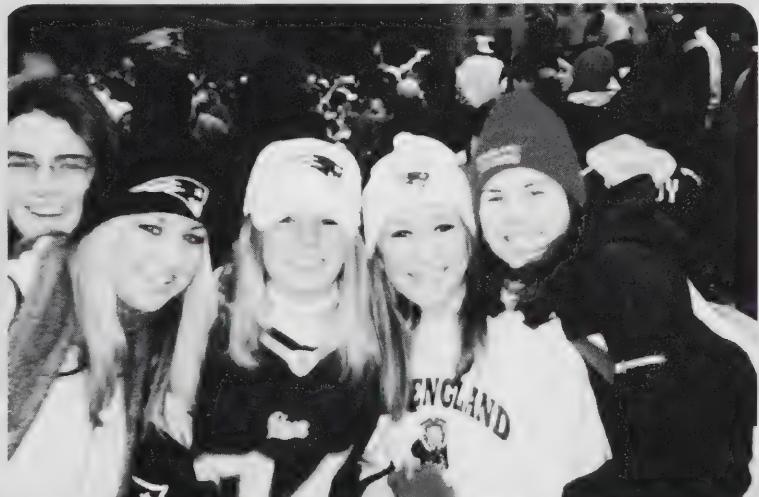

After seeing the Patriots win the Superbowl as freshman, and again as juniors it is easy to see why everyone loves the New England Patriots so much. Students braved the cold both years to attend the celebration parades and rallies for the team, especially as juniors when it was recorded as the coldest day of the year.

The Pats seem to be doing it again this year as they have already broken a world record with 21 wins in a row. Football fans make sure their Sunday afternoons are open in order to have their weekly Pats fix.

Everyone loves wearing their Patriots jerseys to show their New England pride! Although there are many excellent players on the team girls tend to have Brady or Vinateiri jerseys always! Another Super Bowl championship would be nice for our senior year!

Fans Charlene and Cheryl cheering on the bands at Winchester's Rock for Youth Battle of the Bands.

Three hometown bands: Frogskins, Offnight, and Noisy Monster Cage have brought a wide variety of music to the students here at Woburn High, and have developed some hard core fans. Of our bands for this year, the first on the list is a small upcoming band, Offnight. The members include: Kyle Miller, Roberto Terrones, and Mathew Lloyd.

Next comes the Noisy Monster Cage, also known as NMC. With their punk attitude and energetic beats, they are hard to surpass. Members of the band include former graduates Anthony Calarusso, and Chuck Hopkins along with class of 2005 graduates Roberto Terrones and Mike Dinardi. From CD's to stickers to screaming fans, these guys rock.

Last but not least is the Frogskins. Members of this class of 2005 band include, Dan Bagarella, Rich "Dick" Dommings, Kyle Miller, Mike Fuccillo, and Mathew "Mullet" Inserra. These guys rock out to all kinds of music but when it comes to writing songs they're all metal.

OUR FIRST.....

SENIOR WHEELS

Nice car.

There's no denying it - the high school population has always possessed a fervent obsession with cars. They're not just for boys anymore, girls are enjoying the glory of their wheels more than ever. Maybe there is something undeniably cool about driving into the parking lot by one-building with a vibrating stereo, maybe the shine of a new car and the attention one receives with a decent-looking vehicle (aka all parts still attached) are highly valued. Who knows?

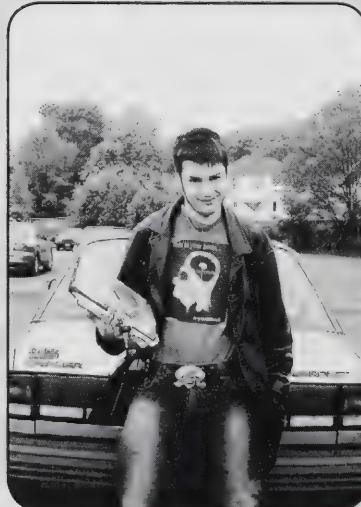

Whatever the case, senior wheels are more popular than ever. Seniors rule the school; perhaps they should rule the parking lot, too. Who do you think has the hottest car this year?

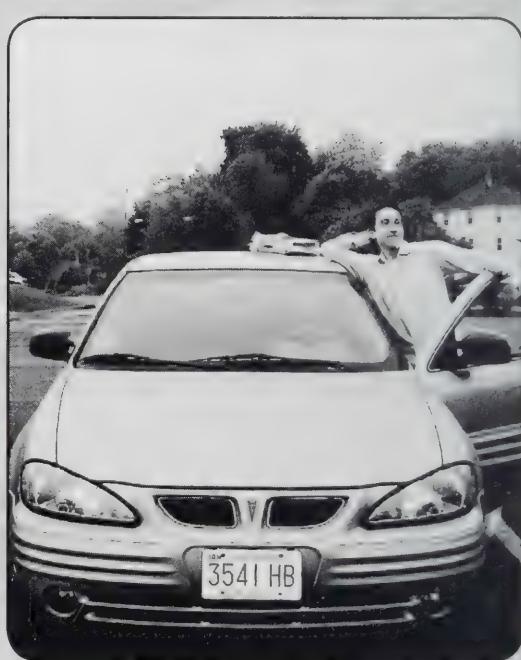

Rumor has it this isn't Maria's first wheels.

Help!

What goes on in Matt's mind?

Don't be too modest!

OUTSIDE THE WALLS

Hey Jess, let's tickle him!

Way too cool.

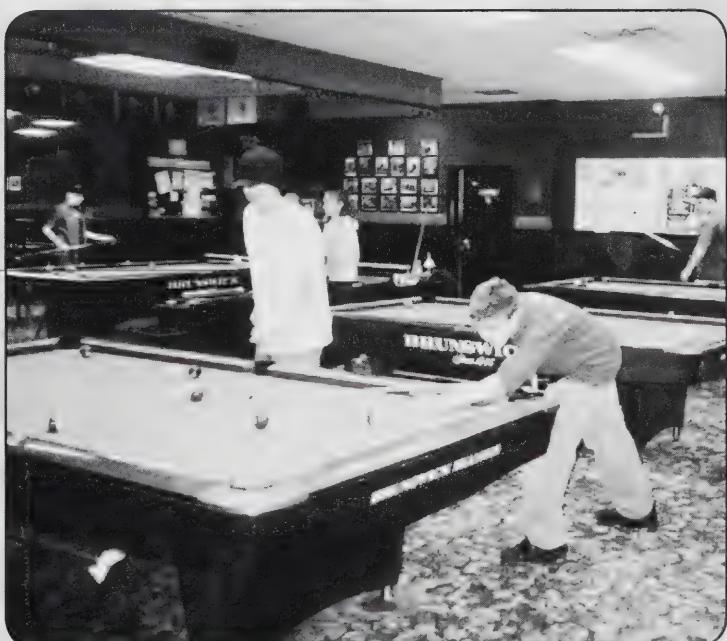

Best Friends.

Everybody knows that high school life entails much more than school work: from jobs to volunteer work to hanging out with friends, high school is a melting pot of various activities blended together to shape an irreplaceable experience.

The memories that we will hold closest to our hearts of high school are not those neverending nights of studying, the differences between sine and cosine, nor the tiring days of falling asleep as sixth and seventh periods dragged on forever. The times we will remember in the years to come are those that are outside the walls of Woburn High, the laughs we shared with co-workers, the tears we cried with friends, the community traditions and perks of outside-school pastimes. Hold these memories close to your hearts - when it all comes down, memories are what always remain.

Breaker's: Fun Spot, day or night.

Will you regret this?

That's a great look for you.

Supermodel.

Don't hate me because I'm beautiful.

Laura being Laura.

Apparently ya'll forgot to duck out of the picture because we have you on film! It's too late now, are you embarrassed?

From dragging yourself to school in the ugliest pajamas to wearing the "new" fashions that only you know about. Woburn High has seen it all. Everyone dreads the embarrassing fall down 7 building stairs...but everyone does it at least once throughout their high school career.

The past four years have been filled with unforgettable moments. Some of these times you wish could be taken back. But what would school be like without "the laugh of the day"? It is hilarious when the bunny walks down the hall or the giant blood drop is seen wandering throughout the school. These are the moments that make school fun and allow our memories to come alive!

Mega Shiny.

uuuhhhh..nice penguin...

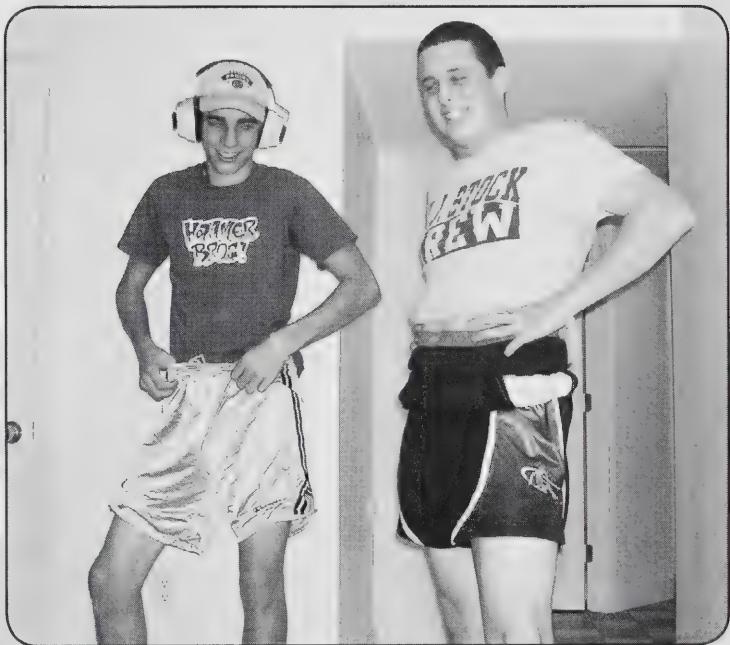

Where'd you get the do?

We look so young!

The Kennedy's 8th Grade National Honor Society.

Geography Bee Winners.

Friends till the end.

So, who is really better? The Joyce kids, or the Kennedy kids? There has been an everlasting rivalry between the students of these two middle schools, and nobody knows where it started. Nevertheless, its popularity will probably last for many, many years to come; perhaps, it will never end.

It is truly amazing to see how the students of Woburn High have overcome their differences and formed friendships and relationships despite their insecurity upon entering this school from their comfortable, small middle schools. Coming into this school, we sometimes were unsure of our peers, afraid to show our true selves for fear of rejection or laughter. Now, as we leave high school behind, the rivalry that was once so strong between the Kennedy and Joyce schools has almost dissipated. Trace it back to its roots, however, and the rivalry is still there; each one of us, whether we want to admit it or not, has a certain amount of pride in the middle school of which we were constituents.

And if you did not attend either the Joyce or the Kennedy? Well, then, consider yourself lucky. You do not have to be a part of the struggles between the two. You can just sit back, relax, and laugh at the friendly arguments that sometimes occur around you.

Mike and Ike.

Erik, you never cease to amaze us.

As my hands slowly turned the worn pages of the Innitou, I observed a section of the yearbook to which I never before paid much attention: Arts & Entertainment.

Quickly glancing at the countless faces of high school actors, artists, and musicians, I could not help but be overwhelmed by a sense of pride in what the Class of 2005 accomplished during its short residence at Woburn High.

Little in the past had I taken into consideration the hundreds of hours students and faculty toiled to perfect plays, concerts, and work of art little had I realized what talent it required to even be a part of the high school world outside academics and sports.

Though their faces may now be long forgotten, their moments in the spotlight will forever remain. The effort and diligence artists, singers, and thespians forfeited for the benefit of their spectators is preserved for all to cherish, as their deserved recognition lies here, in the dusty Innitou 2005.

ON THE RUN

Captains

The boys' cross-country team trekked through a variety of courses and conditions this season. Courses contained mud and fallen trees, grassy fields, treacherous hills, and icy and snowy conditions. Team captain, Ben Fuller, led the team through each course with the team's motto, "I love hills!"

All in all, some of the greatest memories of the team came from times spent together away from running. First year runner and senior, Ryan Mahoney, says that he will never forget the "pasta parties" and the "Red Sox parties" that the team had. The team as a whole developed a trust and most importantly a friendship that will last a lifetime. As for the season, the members of the team will never forget the experience of running in 5 inches of snow.

STRIDING FOR PERFECTION

Captains

What is one? Of all the definitions that could be given, this team fits it the best. Not only were these girls a group of runners, but also a family. They did everything as a whole. They were completely selfless in each race and gave everything they had for one another. The highlight of the season came just before the midway point when the girls faced the tough Reading team. The Reading team, being the second largest in the league, came into Horn Pond in numbers thinking they had the meet won. Well someone forgot to tell Woburn that as they beat their over-sized rivals by just one point to capture their only victory of the season. Tracy Finn, team captain states, "This year was different from every other year and even though we didn't win that much we had a great year and I enjoyed being captain."

The field hockey team of 2004 was led by two of the most respected seniors Maria Andrews and Lauren Foley. Both busy with commitments to school and extracurricular activities, they never lacked in their leadership and dedication to the team. Maria and Lauren truly were there to play the game they loved. Hard work and dedication to the sport brought the wrestling team to a victorious season. These strong men completed the season with a Middlesex League title and a record of 7-1. They were led to victory by captains Brendan McCue and Drew Smith. As the seniors leave their fellow teammates behind the Tanners will forever remember this successful season. They will remember all the strenuous practices and endless hours spent training and competing.

Captains

Through hours of practice, conditioning, and tumbling, the gymnastics team has completed another successful season. This upbeat and determined team was led by captains Christina Beecher, Adela Kolar, and Vanessa Szymanski. The girls will forever miss the times spent together in and out of the gym, as well as motivating each other through practices. They are constantly seen cheering each other on in competitions. Their valiant efforts go to show that not only are these girls a team, but also a group of friends.

Captains

During Sophomore year, a group of girls thought of an idea to start a Dance Team for the school. Flyers were taped up and tryouts were held, thus forming Woburn High's first dance team. After making our debut appearance at a home football game, the team signed up for competitions and was entered in local talent shows. By spending so much time together during practices and nerve wracking performances, the dance team soon became great friends.

Sleepovers and team bonding nights were a must along with inside jokes and a few quirky laughs, "I'd rather be in last place with you girls, than come in first with anyone else". This saying reflects how great of a bond we share and how memorable the first three years were together.

Let the Good Times Roll On the Field...

And Let the Good Times Roll Off the Field...

The numerous dances of Woburn Memorial High will always be fondly remembered by students and faculty alike. From taking professional photos at proms and semi-formals to walking into one's home late at night with nothing but sore feet and heavy eyes, dances offered a chance for students to meet and have fun.

They were organized so that for just one night, students could relax and do their own thing. While some students took to the dance floor, others stood around taking pictures or talking with friends. Others sat in chairs for three hours, too embarrassed or shy to dance. Some simply watched in amazement at everything taking place around them. Whatever the case, the dances of Woburn High were just never an event to miss.

Freshman Year

On the first day of high school as freshman everyone nervously approaches the school after getting out of the bus or getting dropped off by parents. Everyone is wide eyed either with anxiety or excitement although many students probably didn't sleep a wink the night before. Questions run through everyone's minds as they try to make their way through the hundreds of upperclassmen trying to find their homeroom. How am I going to remember my locker combination? How am I going to find my way around here and actually remember it? And most of all, when am I going to see the pool on the fourth floor everyone keeps telling me about?

During the first month of school, the tragedy of September 11th occurred and drew us closer as a class. The next few months, the school along with the community rallied together and acted as a support group. Some knew people who had lost their lives during the tragedy, while others just mourned all the innocent brave lives America lost that day. September 11th is one day no one will ever forget.

It took about three months until everyone seemed to be comfortable within the now friendly Woburn High walls. By the time the Freshman dance came around everyone seemed to feel at home.

As our freshman year ended we could not wait for the summer to spend time with all their new friends and first summer as a high school student. We also could not wait to finally be sophomores and call someone else freshman.

Please Mom, can I go to the dance?

Tracy and her friends.

Together for the next four years.

Yes, I did drink all three cups of Gatorade.

Sophomore Year

Having a good time.

Say cheese!

I don't know how to tie my tie.

Sophomore year was interesting, to say the least. At that time, we were still underclassmen, still unaware that our class actually was made up of over 350 students. If we were lucky, we knew that 150 or 200 of them actually existed. The pressures of freshman year had ended, the threat of being stuffed into a locker had grown a little bit less likely. We were still a little unsure of ourselves, and of our class. We were not yet united, still a little shy. Though everything has now changed, we carry these roots with us today.

Sophomore year was the year of the semi-formal, held in the old auditorium on a random day in May. It was also the year we began to discover bit by bit what high school was all about, the year we began to get more involved in sports and clubs, worry a little more about friends and going out and a little less about the giant backpacks that made our backs ache for days as freshmen.

It was also the year most of us shed our braces and our general middle school appearances and actually looked a little more like high school students, a little less like 12 year old boys and girls walking around, lost in the wrong school. Tenth grade was a time of discovery, and of newfound friendship.

Junior Prom

The Junior Prom is a night that will never be forgotten. At the Wyndham Hotel in Andover, we danced for hours upon hours, enjoying food and taking pictures.

From elegant dresses to Cinderella-like gowns, all of the girls looked their best - at the same time, guys dressed in tuxedos of all colors amazed the crowd.

The memories of that night will be kept forever in our hearts.

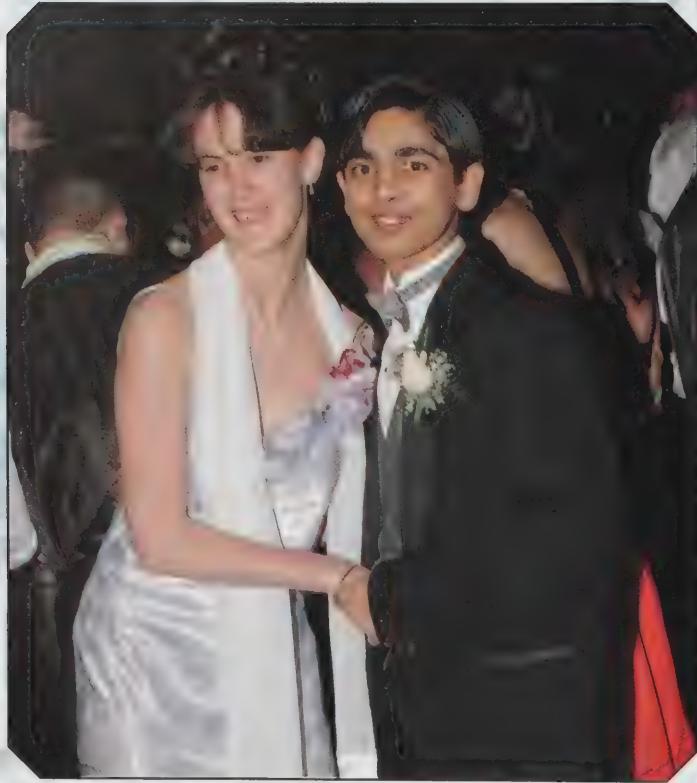

We'll remember this forever!

Leanne, what's so funny?

We've got the whole night ahead of us.

Holiday Dance

On a bitter, dark night in mid-December, Woburn High hosted its traditional Holiday Dance for the senior class. The Flaherty Auditorium was alive with music, dancing, and photos, as we got together for our next to last dance of our high school careers.

The boys dressed in style from top hats to shiny rented shoes while girls wore dresses of all lengths, shapes, and colors. As we mingled together, the fun never ended until the lights turned on and we said our goodbyes.

High school was a tremendous experience, one that entailed far more than just academics, clubs, and sports. From community events to the construction of the new high school and the various landmarks scattered throughout the city, high school life was a conglomeration of occurrences, all joined together to form an unforgettable time and landscape.

Although high school has ended, I carry forever the memories of the City of Woburn with me. As I flip the wrinkled, yellow pages of my yearbook, these memories flood my mind, taking me back into the past.

Woburn High has recently become the site of a major architecture project. What was once the football fields, baseball fields and the building eight parking lot has become a flattened, barren parcel of land on top of which a metal frame of our new school has been constructed.

We the Class of 2005, can appreciate the glory of its creation through the windows of our own school. However, the new school will be first-class, endowed with technology like no other, and although its disturbances are often agitating, its construction should be viewed as a precious commodity. We will all be proud of its completion when its unveiling finally commences.

January 2004 ground breaking.

Our Community

Heading down Main Street, almost no one stops to admire the history that Woburn Center contains. For instance, inside the tree lined park is a piece of a ship, one of the most important ships in American history. The City of Woburn contains a piece to the battered sea vessel, The Maine. It was the explosion of this mighty ship that resulted in the Spanish-American War.

From the historic Woburn Public Library to the castle-like Wyman School, Woburn is the sight of countless pieces of nineteenth century architecture.

Woburn has modernized since its founding hundreds of years ago, buildings symbolize this city's ability to endure over the years.

the Halloween Parade

The Leo Club girls - All in a day's work.

Just floating by...

All together now.

This past October 31th, the Woburn Host Lions Club sponsored its annual Halloween Parade. Over 70,000 people attend the parade each year. But not many know where its origins lie.

The parade is the largest parade run by a Lions organization in the country. It is the longest running non-interupted parade in New England. In fact, the Woburn Host Lions Club has been managing the parade for 50 years. The donations generated from the parade go to support eye research. Over $20,000 was raised!

This year, Woburn High students actively participated in the parade. The cheerleaders, bands, Dance Team, Giving Camp and Key Club members are some of the participants that showed their school and Woburn pride by taking a few hours out of their Sunday to walk in the parade or ride on a float.

Leo club members worked the 2.5 mile route and handed out American flags. Many do not know that the Woburn Leo Club was the fourth club in the world to be established.

What a great tradition the parade has for the community of Woburn.

Here we go!

Some high school students enjoyed becoming active members of Woburn High clubs; after all, there were more than 33 from which one could choose. On the other hand, there were pupils who solely participated in sports, drama, art, or music.

There were some who juggled numerous clubs and activities at once, and others who participated in none. Whatever the case, clubs and their various programs enormously benefited the community of Woburn, the high school population, and beyond; from the Key Club's annual Blood Drive to the Interact Club's "Dating Game." These clubs left us with fond memories.

The faculty of Woburn High never receives its deserved credit: even the kindest, most lenient teachers have student enemies. Nevertheless, there is no denying that they have had an enormous impact on who we are as people.

Teachers shape the people we want to be; they assist us in discovering our goals and lead us in the right direction when we fall short of the path on which we should be. We will miss our teachers when we finally leave Woburn to enter new lives.

Other staff of Woburn High include the principal, vice principals, guidance counselors, paraprofessionals, cafe workers and janitors. Without them and the teachers, the school simply would not go round. Who would give us the discipline that we sometimes need? Who would let us borrow books and help us make college decisions? Who would clean up the cafeteria after lunch? For these and many other tasks, the staff of Woburn High deserves a bow, the greatest respect, and the best of luck in the years to come.

Superintendent's Message

Congratulations Class of 2005! You have each worked very hard to successfully meet the graduation requirements of Woburn Memorial High School. This is an accomplishment that will be the first of many in your educational and personal lifetime experiences. It is one that has been guided and supported by your parents, teachers, and friends. So, you are ready to go forth with our blessings to your new path. We send you, safe in the knowledge of your preparedness, your curiosity, your adventurous spirit and, of course, with our hope for your continual triumphs and successes.

You will represent Woburn as its inspirations for the future. Leave with pride and always return to the welcome that sends you off. You are our legacy for tomorrow, and we salute each of you as you embark upon your great journey.

Dr. Carl Batchelder

Mark Donovan
Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum

Joseph Elia
Business Manager

Thank You Dr. Louise Mary Nolan

As we say goodbye to Dr. Nolan, we thank her for the extraordinary commitment she has devoted to the Woburn Public School system, both as a science teacher and as Assistant Superintendent of Schools. Not only has she set an unsurpassable example of dedication and diligence for staff and students alike, but she has raised the bar of education for years to come. Always "ahead of the game," Dr. Nolan applied to the school system fundamentals in frameworks and MCAS testing, and Woburn never ceases to enjoy the fruits of her years of toil. A million thanks; we wish you the best.

Principal's Message

First, let me thank all of you for your patience during the first year of construction of our new high school. The noise and activity of the project has been our constant partner. In addition, many of you who participate in our athletic programs have had no home field on which to play. We appreciate your positive attitudes about all of it.

You have been a very good class with outstanding students, community volunteers, athletes, actors, musicians, and dancers. We appreciate all you have done to make our school a better place. As you begin your lives after Woburn Memorial High School, we wish you the best of good health and good fortune. Take care of yourselves and take care of your friends and family. Always be proud to be a Tanner.

Our Cafe Workers

In Memory of Nicholas Barbas

1935 - 2004

Nick was proud to walk the halls of Woburn Memorial High School among his many friends. Nick graduated from Woburn High in 1953, then returned many years later as a custodian. He usually started his workday by arriving at school around 5:00 a.m. He wanted to make sure that everything was ready to go from the doors being unlocked to bread being delivered. His pride in his work, school, family and community is an example for all of us to follow. He always kept a low profile but the evidence of his work said it all. We feel privileged to have known him. He will be missed but certainly not forgotten.

Yearbook Staff

This is our second year as advisors of the Yearbook. This book is an outstanding historical document of the life of Woburn Memorial High School seniors. It will be cherished for years to come.

Our Yearbook Staff has spent endless hours to make your book outstanding. They have attended summer yearbook camp, in-school training, and worked after school, during long nights, and on weekends to bring you a high quality book. Their caring, undying dedication and enthusiasm is evident throughout the book.

Each staff member contributed in their own special way. Thank you to Lauren for all her outstanding writing and proofreading; Nicole M. for making sure all the pages had the right layout; Megan for her design skills on the computer; Nicole H. for multi-tasking 5th period; Ruchi for her strong organizational skills with all the senior paper work and Laura for her bright and cheery outlook on all the captions in the book. These girls have learned so much about budgets, deadlines, computer work and most of all teamwork. We really enjoyed working with them and will truly miss them.

We would like to thank our representative, Susan Happel, for all of her help and support in publishing this book. Lastly, we would like to thank all students who contributed text and poems, took photographs, and prepared the slide show for us.

Mrs. Elaine Farmer and Mrs. Susan Thifault

What Lies Ahead

The bell is about to chime, one last time.

Are you ready for what lies ahead? It's time to start your life.

All the friends, enemies, and those that met you half way.

This is the last time you'll ever see them all together, the end is today.

It's time to say your good-byes, time to pick up that book called life, all the bumps in the road, to your eyes, will now subside.

Time to pick up the pace if you plan on winning life's million mile race.

Just remember that if you're about to fly, don't forget your wings.

And someday when you reach the top, when you pass the finish line, don't forget everyone that got you to that place.

Someday, if you haven't yet, you'll find such pure love.

Yes, your soul will shine right through the skies.

Now you're on your own, just remember you're not alone.

We're all leaving to find the same fate, just appreciate all those people that picked you up when you were down.

They put aside all their feelings, to flip that frown.

And remember one final thing; remember to end all the bad ties.

Don't forget to tell that someone how you feel, you've got nothing to lose, just give it one last try.

This is all the advice I've got to give to you.

*Just remember all that I've done, all that I've said,
and that I welcome the same fate, too...*

What lies ahead, you'll never know, until you give life a try...

I'm gonna miss those halls, all the groups and shows.

All the fun we had, doing absolutely nothing.

And I'm gonna miss you, every last one of you.

I'll shed all my tears for you.

Matt Inserra

In Closing...

*Remember,
if it's meant to be
it will find a way,
so dream, smile,
and come what may.*

*The memories you will never forget,
so never look back and never regret.*

*Though my high school years are long gone,
I will always hold close to my heart
all I have learned.*

*Not only were those four years
a time for growth,
but they were also some of the best times of my life.*

*From unforgettable parties to hilarious trends,
treasured loves to touching friendships,
high school was a time for which
to live and to be proud.*

As I close the back cover of the legendary Innitou, my eyes fill with tears.

*However, I am grateful,
because I know that no matter how long
I live, I will never forget my years at Woburn Memorial High School.*

*It was not an end of fun
nor of cheer,
as most believe:
it was merely the beginning.*

David Harvey

Congratulations Dave!

We are so proud of what you have accomplished so far in your life and we know you will be successful in anything you want to achieve in your future. We know Dad is with you in your heart and beaming with pride at the man you have become.

Laura Scalley

Congratulations!

We are so proud of your accomplishments and hard work.

Your fun loving spirit is an inspiration.
Keep smiling!

Love,
Mom, Dad and Tim

Megan Berardi

If the first 18 years are any indication, you have a bright future on the journey ahead of you. We're very proud and excited to be there with you. You have that special something that will take you wherever you want to go.

Congratulations. Love you, Mom, Dad, Chris & Matt

To the Girls,

I'll always remember the fun and the crafts. I am so proud of all of you. You've grown into wonderful young women. Best of luck with all you do.
